

Friendly, Courteous, Kind

The fourth, fifth and sixth points of the Scout Law are: friendly, courteous and kind. These are values that each scout and scout leader affirm every time they repeat the Scout Law.

Friendly, courteous and kind are values that should be displayed in thought, word and deed including the following places:

- Social media
- Unit meetings such as den meetings, troop meetings and pack meetings
- Friends
- Family
- Social gatherings
- Places of worship
- Work
- Scouting events

Scouts and Scout leaders should look for opportunities to be friendly, courteous and kind to one another.
